

BIG INDIAN CELEBRATION AT MACLEOD YEAR'S PREMIER PROV. EVENT—JULY 1-2-3

EQUILIZATION OF FREIGHT RATES ORDERED; CROW'S NEST RATES ON GRAIN, FLOUR STAND

Ottawa, June 6.—The Board of Railway Commissioners for Canada has been instructed by an order-in-council passed yesterday to make a "thorough and complete investigation of the whole subject of railway freight rates in the Dominion."

The order states that the equalization of freight rates should be recognized to the fullest possible extent as being the only means of dealing equitably with all parts of Canada and as being the method best calculated to facilitate the interchange of commodities between the various portions of the Dominion, as well as the culture, and the development and encouragement of industry and agriculture.

Grain, Flour Rates Stand

The order, while granting freedom to the railway commission in its investigation, makes no stipulation in regard to rates. The maximum rate on grain and flour fixed by the Crow's Nest Pass Act is not to be exceeded.

"The committee is of the opinion that, as the production and export of grain and flour forms one of the chief assets of the Dominion, and in order to encourage the further development of the great grain growing provinces of the west, on which development the future of Canada in a large measure depends, it is desirable that the maximum cost of the transportation of these products, should be determined and known," the order states.

"The committee is, therefore, of the opinion that the maximum established for rates on grain and flour, as at present in force under the Crow's Nest Pass agreement, should be exceeded."

Crow's Nest Act Modified

The order-in-council concludes: "The committee further advise that legislation be introduced at the present session of parliament, making it clear that the provisions of the Railway Act of 1919 in respect of tariff and tools shall, save in the particular above mentioned, be operative notwithstanding any special acts or agreements and removing all doubts as to the validity of tariffs heretofore filed."

The Crow's Nest Pass Act, it is intimated, will stand on the statute books. The coming legislation will, however, modify it, except on rates on grain and flour, in a way to give the railway board authority to proceed with a complete investigation.

Notice of Legislation

Ottawa, June 6.—Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways, has given formal notice of legislative to give full authority to the railway commission to proceed with the equalization of railway freight rates. The purpose of the legislation is to leave the railway commission in its work of equalization, limited only by the Crow's Nest maximum rates on grain and flour.

STEAMER SAILS TO FIND AMUNDSEN

Oso, Norway, June 8.—After the steamer Ingertre sailed Saturday from Horten for Spitzbergen with the Norwegian government's Amundsen relief expedition on board, a report was received to the effect that weather conditions at Spitzbergen were unfavorable.

The advice said spring with a mild temperature had set in, and that a light fog was hanging over the water, making it impossible to see the coast of Spitzbergen from the Amundsen expedition vessels Farm and Hobby.

Relief Plans

Oso, June 6.—Capt. Amundsen's auxiliary committee in New York is to be asked to take charge, in co-operation with Donald B. McMillan's expedition, of the work of reconnoitering West Greenland for traces of the members of Amundsen's polar flying party.

The decision was reached at a meeting here of air chiefs and Arctic experts.

The French explorer, Dr. Jean Charcot, will be asked to search the territory around East Greenland while the Norwegian expedition aboard the steamer Ingertre will patrol around Spitzbergen.

The Ingertre was due to leave the naval station at Horten some time today, bearing two airplanes, the latest weather reports say Spitzbergen is enveloped in fog.

ALLIED NOTE TO GERMANY GIVES DETAIL FAILURE OF DISARMAMENT

Berlin, June 4.—The inter-allied note to Germany detailing her failure to fulfill the disarmament requirements of the Versailles treaty was today presented to Chancellor Luther by Baron D'Abernon, British ambassador to Germany, representing the allied ambassadors who accompanied him.

Foreign Minister Stresemann was present when the note was delivered. It was announced simultaneous publication will be made Saturday morning in the various allied capitals.

In presenting the note, Ambassador D'Abernon said: "I have the honor to hand your excellency on behalf of my colleagues and myself a joint note from our respective governments on the subject of conditions for the evacuation of the Cologne zone."

French Suggestions

Paris, June 4.—The French reply to the British observations regarding the proposed French note to Germany, answering the latter's suggestions for a western European security pact will be sent to London tonight.

It was said today in official circles that the matter is considerably nearer a solution. The French have tried to meet some of the British objections and believe an agreement is in prospect. After a cabinet meeting today at which the note was discussed, Foreign Minister Briand said France and Great Britain were agreed in principle but that a number of details remain to be settled.

He expressed the belief that an agreement will be reached and the note sent to Germany soon after the meeting of the League of Nations which begins in Geneva Monday.

The previously-expressed British attitude regarding Germany's security pact proposal, is that the pact should be confined to western European frontiers. France has desired eastern European frontiers to be taken into consideration.

Foreign Minister Briand plans to take the opportunity during his attendance at the League of Nations council in Geneva to discuss with the British foreign secretary, Austen Chamberlain, the allied reply to Germany's security pact proposal.

GERMANS THREATEN TO BLOW UP ALLIED MILITARY SSION

Paris, June 4.—The report of the inter-allied military control commission which formed the basis of the allied note to Germany regarding disarmament has been made public. The annexes which contain the details of violations of the treaty of Versailles by the German government, however, were not published.

The commission, after recapitulating the various measures of obstruction to which the Germans resorted to prevent effective resumption of control over German armaments concludes with the statement that the evidence collected, despite this obstruction, shows that Germany is far from having disarmed as obligated under the Versailles treaty. The document tells how German officials held the sole to be the sole judges of what evidence the commission ought to be permitted to have, and how the keys of office were lost and found only after documents or other evidence which the commission was seeking had been removed through windows.

The members of the commission, the report states, were frequently told on approaching a munitions depot where they had reason to suppose they would find unauthorized stocks, that it was worth their lives to try to open the doors which had been arranged with powerful mines.

The document also tells how German officials held the sole to be the sole judges of what evidence the commission ought to be permitted to have, and how the keys of office were lost and found only after documents or other evidence which the commission was seeking had been removed through windows.

Every day letters are being received from Indian chiefs all over the continent, signifying their intention of attending the big three day Indian Celebration in Macleod on July 1st, 2nd, and 3rd.

From all indications it will be the largest and biggest Indian conference and celebration ever held. The grand pageant to be held each day will be a sight never to be forgotten; hundreds of Indians from practically every tribe in the Dominion and from the States, will be there, each one decked out in his tribal costume, wearing with his brother Indian in grandeur and hoping to secure one of the many valuable prizes offered in the pageant contest.

Every afternoon on these three big days a splendid stampee program will be offered, where some of the finest ropers and riders in the West will be seen in action, roping the wily calf, and riding, or attempting to ride the wild outlaws of the range.

Indian pastimes and sports are also included on the program, while another big Indian attraction will be the rehearsal of the famous "Whoop-up" massacre between the Bloods and Crees, which will be rehearsed on the river bottom in Macleod, and on the final day of the celebration will be photographed by one of the largest picture corporations on the continent. Hundreds of Indians will take part in this big production and the final stand of this historic scene in the middle of river will be alone worth a trip to Macleod.

The Board of Trade of Macleod together with other organizations are firmly behind this big celebration.

WILL STAND BEHIND INDIAN CELEBRATION

On Friday evening last a special meeting of the Board of Trade was held for the purpose of discussing means of helping the forthcoming Indian celebration.

A good attendance was recorded and the matter was carefully dealt with, and it was finally decided to form a special committee which was to be appointed by President Fawcett, to deal with the question. From the spirit of the meeting it was quite evident the members of the Board of Trade are strongly behind the celebration and will do all in their power to make it a big success.

COLLEEN MOORE ACHIEVES STARDOM THROUGH NATIVE ABILITY AND MERIT

New First National Star To Be Seen Here Soon in "The Huntress." Gave Evidence of Historic Traits Before Reaching Her Teens

She was a stage producer when eleven years old! Yes, and actor, villain and prop man to boot!

Thus were shown early and unmistakable histrionic tastes and traits in the girl who was recently made a star by First National Pictures, and who is presented by First National in the title role in "The Huntress," an adaptation of Hulbert Footner's novel of the same name, which is to be presented at the Empire Theatre Friday and Saturday.

This girl is Colleen Moore. A brief review of her career suffices to show that Miss Moore has earned her stardom. As a London child she is apt to be more enduring than stardom achieved through press agency, a fictitious foreign name and a borrowed accent.

In Tampa, Fla., where Miss Moore spent several years of her early childhood, the winsome First National star was the instigator of "The American Sled Co." Colleen wrote the plays, supervised their production, was "prop" man, leading woman and doubled as the villain.

Her parents were not then sympathetic to the young lady's ambitions to become an actress. She was sent to study at the Detroit Conservatory of Music and all preparations were made for her debut as a concert pianist.

Then, in a casual way, she was introduced to D. W. Griffith, the famous motion picture producer. Impressed with her charms, he suggested that she go into pictures. She took his advice and soon was on the way to film fame.

She played in several Griffith productions. Then in turn she was leading lady for Charles Ray, Tom Mix and Monroe Salisbury. She featured in two Christie specials and then was leading lady for Sessue Hayakawa in several pictures.

Later Marshall Neilan cast her in the leading feminine role in "Dinty." She played with John Barrymore in "The Lotus Saters" and played in leading and featured roles in such pictures as "Come on Over," "The Wall Flower" and "Look Your Best." "Freaking All Outers," "The Ninety and Nine," "The 'Nth Commandment,'" "April Showers," "The Daughter of Mother McGinn," "Slippy McGee" and "Broken Hearts of Broadway."

In "The Huntress" Miss Moore plays the role of a white girl who is lured by an Indian into a life of crime. Her Aryan instincts cause her to rebel against marriage with an Indian of a neighboring tribe, and she yearns to marry a white man. Then she is told that she is indeed white, and immediately sets out as a huntress, with a white man as her prey. As a means of aid, she kidnaps the first Indian who comes near her.

"Old Home Week" boasts the authorship of George Ade, and if there is a writer in America today who knows the average small town and can write about it amusingly, it is this famous Hunter humorist, whose shrewd philosophy and homely quips have won for him an enviable reputation.

In brief, the story deals with the experiences of a small town boy, who returns home after having "made good" in New York. At least the townspeople take it for granted that he has been successful inasmuch as his business cards read "President of the Amalgamated Oil Co." The citizens hail his arrival with the keenest delight because the town is at that very moment in the midst of an oil boom.

At about the time the local "hero" discovers that a couple of crooked promoters are in back of the oil boom, the inhabitants learn that their native son is in reality a failure and bankrupt. The resultant developments are full of action and suspense, eventually leading up to a surprise climax and a happy ending.

The production as a whole reflects great credit on Tom George, who made the story his adaptation and Victor Heerman who produced it.

The shooting of harmless dogs and pets in Macleod should be investigated by the police.

Last week Alex McLeod's dog, another pet, was tortured to death by a 22 bullet wound in the eye.

DRIVE FOR POOLS UNDER WAY

The province-wide drive for memberships for the dairy, livestock and poultry pools is well under way, and will be in progress until June 25th. In connection with the drive, a great campaign of meetings covering every district in the province, is being held. There will be more than 500 of these meetings, with speakers including provincial, legislative members and prominent agriculturists.

Preparations for the reception to Alberta of Walton H. Petet, the American co-operative expert who is to assist the pools with five meetings in the province, are practically complete. Mr. Petet, who is secretary of the federation of all U.S. co-operative marketing associations, will arrive in Lethbridge, June 13th, and will be met there by Premier Greenfield or Acting Premier Hoadley, and A. B. Claypool, Chairman of the Joint Pool Committee.

Mr. Petet will speak in Lethbridge, Saturday June 13th, and in Calgary June 15th, where a special reception will also be held for him. Mr. Petet speaks in Red Deer, Tuesday June 16th, and in Edmonton June 17th. At Camrose the Board of Trade has taken entire charge of arrangements for Mr. Petet's visit there June 18th.

Mr. Petet's speech at Calgary will be broadcasted from the Calgary Herald Station, and in Edmonton from the Edmonton Journal Station.

During last week the Saskatchewan Livestock Investigational Committee, headed by Hon. Geo. Langley, paid a visit to the province and held conferences with the pool officials, getting information

AFTER INDUSTRIALISM—WHAT?

"This is an industrial age," says Charles M. Schwab, "and North America is the heart of it."
What will happen to North America when this age passes, when industrialism no longer satisfies as a creed?Industrialism came upon the world so suddenly and so overwhelmingly, with the rapid advance of science, that this generation has come to think of it as an eternal thing.
But the truth is that industrialism has already reached its peak. The world is over-industrialized. Today the manufacturing nations of the earth are fighting desperately for markets. Without a radical reorganization of the world's system of making and consuming, buying and selling, something is bound to blow up.

No one will throw away the fruits of science. Industrialism will always remain for the simple reason that industry will always be necessary. But the time is shortly coming when industrialism will no longer be a fetish, when the heart of America will turn to other gods.

And to what other gods will America turn?

Industrialism has flourished in America because political and social conditions in America have been favorable to the regimentation of humanity, a state that is essential to industrial progress.

North America has boasted of its individualism and its personal liberty. In other civilized country on earth there is less individualism and less personal liberty. Industrialism has levelled all men to a common plane. It has made them all parts of a machine. Intellectual freedom no longer lives in America. Our minds are the slaves of third-rate magazine writers and fourth-rate demagogues. We can spout off our New World platitudes. But our minds have forgotten how to think for thinking's sake.

When the industrial age passes, there will be a renaissance of intellectualism, an intellectualism strongly tinged with spirituality. There is nowhere else a commerce-weary world can turn.

But can North America, impregnated with industrial philosophy, keep up with this next intellectual age?
Culture and intellectualism are products of wealth. The world's best thinking has been done, either by wealthy folk, or by individuals who have been subsidized by wealthy folk interested in cultural thinking.Is the wealth of North America breeding culture or is it breeding something else?
Is North America making ready for the renaissance of intellectualism, or is it piling all its eggs in the one basket of industrialism?

After industrialism in North America—what?

THE BURDEN OF STATE OWNERSHIP

Seattle, it is claimed, has $300,000,000 worth of public utilities and public property. Owned by the state, this land pays no taxes.

And because money to feed the machinery of government must come from somewhere, the fact that this property is tax-exempt throws an added burden on the balance of the community.

As soon as the property of a public utility or other corporation is acquired by the state, the taxpayer says, reasonably enough: "Why should we tax our own property?"

So the public property is withdrawn from taxation. But the expenses of administration go on just the same. And the only place they can come from is out of the pockets of the rest of the taxpayers. Every acre of land, every item of taxable property acquired by the state, piled on the back of the already overburdened taxpayer, adds just that much to the burden of the rest of the community.

State ownership is a luxury no country can afford.

The accumulation of private profits is absolutely essential to the state, because it is out of those private profits that the expenses of government must be paid.

A SHORT LEG AND A LONG LIFE

News Cables carry the story of Jean Baptiste Rolland, oldest man in France, who, at the age of 149, bemoans the fact that his 95-year-old son is not carrying his age well.

Rolland, born in the year the American Declaration of Independence was signed, has seen much fighting. He was 13 when the Bastille was stormed, and lived through the whole of the French Revolution. He was a young man when the Napoleonic Wars were in progress.

when France was drained of youth and blood.

But the reason Rolland has lived through it all is because he is a cripple. He has one leg six inches shorter than the other. And so he could never fight.

It is a curious commentary on our civilization when disability means long life. It is a queer kind of a world that kills off the perfect men and makes imperfection a guarantee of safety.

When Darwin coined the phrase, "survival of the fittest," he had forgotten about war.

DUNNING HAS 50 SEATS

Regina, June 4.—No further change is reported in the political situation since last night. The number of government candidates elected remains at 50, and for the opposition 11.

It is not expected that any further change now will be made before the official count which takes place on June 9 in all constituencies when some of these seats now credited to one side or the other may vary from present expectations. Notable among these are Cutknife, where the government candidate is credited with a total lead of 21 and Saskatoon county, where the Progressive candidate leads by 30, according to the present count.

CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING RALLY

It is expected that a large number of farmers in this vicinity will attend the co-operative marketing rally to be held at Lethbridge on Saturday afternoon and evening June 13, when Walton H. Petet, secretary of the national council of U.S. co-operative marketing associations, will deliver addresses. Mr. Petet arrives in Lethbridge on the morning of June 13, and will be met by Premier Greenfield or Acting premier Hoadley and A. B. Clapp, chairman of the joint pool committees, and local men. It is expected that he will address meetings in the afternoon and evening at Lethbridge, and will also speak at Calgary June 15, where his speech will be broadcast by the Calgary Herald. His meetings in Lethbridge will likely be held in Wesley church. A definite announcement will be made later.

RAVIN'S OF A PIUTE POET POE

(By C. L. Edson.)

(Note: The versifiers of the Mid-western States, and some of those of New England, have been cultivating the colloquial. This contribution to "The Saturday Review of Literature" parodied the whole hick movement and not any particular American poet—except, perhaps, Poe.)

Once upon a midnight dreary, eerie, scary, I was wary, I was weary, full of worry, thinking of my lost Lenore.

O my cheery, airy, faery, fiery Denore—(Nothing more).
I was napping, when a tapping on the overlapping coping, woke me, gapping, yapping, groping.... toward the rapping. I went hopping, leaping.... hoping that the rapping on the coping
Was my little lost Lenore.

That on opening the shutter to admit the later critter, in she'd flutter from the gutter with her bitter eyes a-glitter;

So I opened wide the door, what was there? The dark weird and drear moor,—or I'm a liar—the dark mire, the drear moor, the mere door, and nothing more!

Then in stepped a stately Raven, shaven like the bard of Avon; yes, a rovin' grievin' Raven, seeking haven at my door.

Yes, that shaven, rovin' Raven had been movin' (Get me, Stephen) for the warm and lovin' haven of my stove an' oven door—
Oven door, and nothing more.

Ah, distinctly I remember, every ember that December turned from amber to burnt amber;

I was burning lumber lumber in my chamber that December, and it left an amber ember.

With a silken, sad uncertain flitin' of a certain curtain,
That old Raven, cold and callous, perched upon the bust of Pallas;Just above my chamber door;
(A lusty, trusty, bust, thrust just above my chamber door.)

Had that callous cuss shown malice? Or sought solace, there on Pallas? (You may tell us, Alice Wallace).

Tell this soul with sorrow laden, hidden in the shade, an' broodin'—
If a maiden out of Eden sent this sudden bird invadin'!

My poor chamber; and protrudin' half an inch above my door.

Tell this broodin' soul (he's breedin' hate by too much sudden recitin'—reading Snowden's Ode to Odin)

Tell this soul by nightmare's ridden, if (no kiddin') on a sudden
He shall clasp a radiant maiden born in Aiden or in Leyden or indeed in Baden Baden—Will he grab this baddin' maiden, gaddin' in forbidden Eden, Whom the angels named Lenore?Then that bird said: "Never more." "Prophet," said I, "thing of evil, navel, novel, or bull weevil.
You shall travel, on the level! Scratch the gravel, now, and travel!"

Leave my hovel, I implore." And that Raven never flitin', never knitting, never tatting, never spouting "Never more."

Still is sitting (out this ballad) on the solid bust (and pallid)—on the solid, valid, pallid bust above my chamber door:

And my soul is in his shadow, which lies floating on the floor,
Fleeing, floating, yachting, boating on the fluting of the matting—Matting on my chamber floor.

There was sex in the old-fashioned novel, but it was an incident and not a selling point.

SPEND YOUR MONEY
IN MACLEOD

Purchases representing thousands of dollars are lost to us, to our trade, to our clerks and employees, to our laborers and artisans, to all the people of Macleod who exist on the products of their work. This money, if spent at home, would help to recreate Macleod financially, give a wider field of activities in business, would be helpful to every resident of this town.

If we purchased regularly from local merchants, this money would circulate in Macleod in a welcome manner. Our merchants merit our patronage; it is to our interest, and the duty of all of us to encourage the local merchant. He is one of us, he lives among us, he has the right to be encouraged by us, he is anxious to have our custom, and to give us satisfaction. We should under all circumstances give him preference, price for price, quality for quality. And nearly always the price that our local merchant asks is, if we compare the quality, just as cheap as that of the outside merchant.

Never purchase merchandise by catalogues from foreign houses before assuring yourself that you cannot procure the same articles, of the same quality (and frequently of better quality) at the same price from your local merchant.

THE COYOTE

THE MENACE OF THE COYOTE

Prowling nightly along river flats and banks, especially in undulating and semi-wooded districts from the Rocky Mountains to Ontario, the coyote or prairie wolf causes frequent loss to the live stock industry of the West. The greatest damage for which he is responsible is inflicted upon sheep and poultry. This damage is somewhat intermittent, being done generally during times of scarcity of rabbits and other natural foods of the coyote. But the sheep industry no doubt suffers severely at times and the sheepfarmer is often discouraged and gives up what otherwise might be an important source of revenue.
Poultry is a favourite food of the coyote and he will wander many miles from his ordinary haunts to obtain it. At times he will kill young calves or pigs and even deer and he is a menace to the eggs and young of grouse, ducks and other game birds.

Of course most creatures have their good points, and the coyote does kill many noxious animals such as rabbits, gophers, mice and voles.

all of which take a heavy toll of the farmers' crops. He has also a certain value as a fur producer. However, the score on the debit side of the ledger makes a strong case against him.

The control of coyotes has for many years been regarded as a serious matter and large amounts of money have been spent in efforts to destroy them. According to a new bulletin, on wolves and coyotes, issued by the Entomological Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture and distributed by the Publications Branch, Ottawa, bounties have not proved successful as they incite only casual effort and give rise to many frauds. Poisoning is effective but involves thorough and systematic work over extensive territory. Digging out the young occupants of dens early in the season, and trapping, are popular methods. Many have made a success of hunting coyotes with dogs, especially in the open country. Cross-bred grey-hounds and Russian wolf hounds have been used with good effect in this work. Some enterprising hunters are said to have made over $2,000 a year hunting coyotes in this way.

has been considerable traffic over the road.

The shipment of several thousand head of buffalo from the Wainwright National Park to the north-

Big Film Company Coming

Hoot Gibson and his company of film actors, are coming to Alberta from Hollywood for the purpose of making a big western motion picture based on the Calgary jubilee and stampedo to be held in July. The most of the scenes will be made in Southern Alberta and around the stampedo.

Teachers' Summer Session

The summer courses for teachers will be held at the University this year from July 6 to August 8, and the attendance is expected to be fully up to former years.

Farm Training for British Boys
In place of utilizing the school of agriculture at Vermilion for the training of British farm boys this fall and winter, the Vermilion school will be re-opened on the same basis as the other two schools in operation, and the British boys who come out for training will be distributed according to convenience among the three schools. This will mean that any young men coming from Britain or elsewhere to settle in Alberta and who wish to take courses offered in the agricultural schools will be able to do so on the same basis as any boy or girl in Alberta. The schools are open to any who wish to make application for the free courses offered. The Provincial Government is asking the Overseas Settlement Board to make a contribution towards the cost of educating the boys who come from overseas, but at any rate the schools are open to all who wish to make application.

Memorial for Mounties
A memorial tablet for the mounted police who located Fort Calgary in 1875 will be erected on a portion of the site of the Calgary City Hall, according to arrangements made with the Federal Government in connection with Calgary's 50th anniversary and jubilee to be held this summer, commemorating the coming of the mounted police.

Municipal Hospital Districts Being Organized

Considerable activity in the organization of municipal hospital districts in the province is noticed.
Those now in process of formation are Stettler, Sedgewick, Vulcan and Warner. The Provincial Health Department has also been notified of the closing of the Innisfail private hospital, and is asked to consider the formation of a municipal hospital district in that vicinity. The Onaway municipal hospital has made an enviable record for the month of May, in that its cost of operation per patient day for that month is but $1.98, which includes the payment of 1-12th of the fixed charges.
This hospital maintains a fullsalaried doctor and staff.

Ontario Follows Alberta Lead

Following the lead of Alberta, the Province of Ontario has now decided to establish the compulsory grading of cream, and the Department of Agriculture has given notice to that effect. The three western provinces and the Province of Quebec already have the cream-grading system in effect, and British Columbia will introduce it next year, so that when Ontario completes its arrangement the same system will be in effect throughout practically all of Canada.

Alberta commenced the grading of cream a good many years ago, and in addition to this, three years ago instituted a system of government grading of cream which has now been followed by Manitoba and Saskatchewan and several States of the Union.

Another Good Bond Sale

The Provincial Treasury has just concluded negotiations for the sale of $2,250,000 4 1/2 per cent. twenty-year bonds dated June 15, 1925, for July delivery and payment. The price received was highly satisfactory to government officials, as the basis of sale is considerably better than any received by the Province since 1913. These bonds are being offered in New York to-day at a price of 96.17, which is a yield rate of 4.80.

The purchasers are the National City Company and Harris, Forbes and Company, who also have agreed by tender the April refunding issue of the Province. The price in this case, however, is much higher.

Hon. R. G. Reid, Provincial Treasurer, states that the bond market appears to be very active at present for this class of bonds, and he considered it advisable to take advantage of the prevailing high prices before the usual reaction of the holiday months set in.

Labor Placements

The Provincial Labor Bureau
during the month of May placed a total of 3,824 men in jobs of which

IS IT ANYBODY'S BUSINESS

Is it anybody's business
To call upon a lady—

Or if the lady don't refuse?

Or to speak a little plainer.

That the meaning all may know,

Is it anybody's business

If a lady has a beau?

Is it anybody's business

When that gentleman does call;

Or when he leaves the lady?

Or if he loves at all?

Or is it necessary

That the curtain should be drawn,

To save from further trouble

From outside lookers-on?

Is it anybody's business

But the lady's, if her beau

Rides out with other ladies,

And doesn't let her know?

Is it anybody's business

But the gentleman's, if she Should accept another's escort,

Where he doesn't chance to be?

If a person's on the sidewalk,

Whether great or whether small,

Is it anybody's business

Where that person means to call?

And if you see a person,

As he's calling anywhere,

What his business may be there?

The substance of our query,
Simply stated, would be this,
Is it anybody's business
What another's business is?
If it is, or if it isn't,
We would really like to know;
For we're certain, if it isn't,
There are some who make it so.

If it is, we'll join the rabble,
And act the noble part,
Of the tattlers and defamers,
Who through the public mart,
If it's not, we'll act the teacher,
Until each meddler learns
'Twould be better in the future
If he'd mind his own concerns.

Kitchen Questions

Does your kitchen look just as

THE DRESSMAKER FROM PARIS
A PAUL BERN CREATION

EMPRESS NEXT WED.—THURS.

you'd like to have it? Perhaps you are one of the housewives who have every up-to-date appliance to make work easy. But is your kitchen a real work-shop, both comfortable and businesslike, a place of efficiency? What about your refrigerator or food closet? Are they dingy, or reflecting cleanliness? If you are not satisfied with that detail, suppose you get a can of flat white paint to apply there.

What is your kettle closet like?
Are the shelves there painted or covered with oilcloth that is easily kept clean? Some people's sink strainers are very sad looking things, too. How's yours? That's another place where a little white paint will go a long ways.

Is it hard to find what you want among the cans of seasoning? One housewife fixed that by using an old knife tray, painted, with the cans arranged in alphabetic order—Allspice, Black Pepper, Cinnamon, Cloves, etc.

A hammer, nails and a bottle of glue should be where you can put your hand on them when you want them, to help keep things up as they should be. It takes less time to keep things up than to bring them up to good condition after they have been allowed to run down. The efficient housewife learns to use her carpenter's kit as a part of good management.

Rags should not take the place of dusters, towels and cleaning cloths.
There is just one good place for rags —in the rag bag. And how many times do you burn up energy unnecessarily by bending your back over to take up sweeping with a short handled dust pan? Long handled ones can be had on the market. It is well enough for the too stout woman who is trying to reduce, except that she breathes the dust when she bends close that way.
The thin or slender woman, or the tired one, or the woman who prefers to use her energy in more useful channels, will get the long handled pan.

Many kitchen helps may be made at home with a little ingenuity. Old furniture may be freshened and brightened with a coat or two of paint, and floors refinished, to make the kitchen a place to work cheerfully and happily in.

Economy Important

Here is a little dissertation of "Economy" in the introduction to the Frugal Housewife, printed in 1811 in Manchester, England. The writer is said to be "a very distinguished lady."

"Economy is so important a part of a woman's character, so necessary to her happiness, and so essential to her performing properly her duties of a wife and of a mother, that it ought to have the precedence of all other accomplishments, and take its rank next to the first duties of life. It is, moreover, an art as well as a virtue—and many well-meaning persons, from ignorance, or from inconsideration, are strangely deficient in it. Indeed it is too often wholly neglected in a young woman's education—and she is sent from her father's house to govern a family, without the least degree of that knowledge, which should qualify her for it; this is the source of much inconvenience; for though experience and attention may supply by degrees, the want of instruction, yet this requires time—the family, in the meantime, may get into habits, which are very difficult to alter; and what is worse, the husband's opinion of his wife's incapacity may be fixed too strongly to suffer him ever to think justly of her gradual improvement. I would therefore, earnestly advise you to make use of every opportunity you can find, for the laying in some store of knowledge on this subject, before you are called into practice; by observing what passes before you—by consulting prudent and experienced mistresses of families—and by entering in a book a memorandum of every new piece of intelligence you acquire;

you may afterwards compare these with more mature observations, and you can make additions and corrections as you see occasion."

L'Envoi (Apologies to Kipling)

"When Earth's last kettle is spotless, and the dishcloths twisted and dried,

When the oldest grease spot has faded, and the youngest dust germ has died,

We shall rest, and faith, we shall need it; lie down for an aeon or two,

With never a shrill alarm-clock, to set us to work anew.

And those who were neat shall be happy, they shall sit in a cushioned chair,

Each weary and separate Martha,
so cumbered about with care;

They shall have real leisure to draw from, with never a milkman's call,
And feet shall have done from aching, and never be tired at all.

With never a neighbor to gossip,
and never a neighbor to blame,
When no one need work for money,
or care for the housewife fame;

But each for ever and ever, in a separate star alone.

May do the Things She Has Longed-to, in Time That Is All Her Own!"

Martha Haskell Clark in "The Home Road."

STRAWBERRIES

are undoubtedly a light crop, but you need not worry about your preserving requirements. We have been promised plenty of berries to supply all our many customers, and the price will be a little under the average market price. The last week in June will be the big preserving week, which is a little earlier than last year.

APRICOTS

We are advised that not more than three cars of apricots will be produced in all of B.C. this season, and Washington isn't much better off. We are forced to look to California for our 'cots this year. The first shipment will arrive about June 25th, and we shall be pleased to book your orders in advance of that date. The price will be around $2.85 per 4-basket crate.
